Instructions

1. After completing Session 5 and the outlined homework, students will specifically consider the needs of their two students within the unit they are working on.
2. Based on your knowledge of the two students in your class, consider the writing assignments involved in your unit. Consider the students' WIDA levels, and determine which of the writing assignments need to be supported by something you can do to provide access to the two ELs.
3. Determine the specific writing requirements of the unit writing assignments and make notes of possible strategies you could use to support the two learners.
4. Bring your notes with you to Session 6 and also bring a instructions for the at least one writing assignment students are required to complete in this unit.
