Activate Background Information

Ask the students:

- What is gratitude?
- When do you experience gratitude?
- What does gratitude mean to you?
- What are some ways to express gratitude?

Inferences and Predictions. What are they? What do we need in order to make predictions?

- Based on prior knowledge and experience.
- Based on the information we already have.

Activity 1: Listening/Speaking

Watch the following video as a class, stopping it a few times to ask the students:

The Present - OFFICIAL

  - What do you think the speaker will talk about?

During Listening

Post-Listening

- What happened in the video?
- What were some things that surprised you? Why?
- How did you feel about the video?

- Discuss with a partner and then as a class.

Activity 3: Listening/Speaking

Past tense: Give a brief review on how to conjugate verbs in the past tense by playing a matching game.

- Patterns/Chunks/Phrases:
  - I am/was pleased that
  - I am/was happy that
  - I am/was delighted that
  - I feel/felt fortunate that
  - I feel/felt satisfied because
  - I feel/felt relieved because
  - I feel/felt lucky that
- Ask the question again:
  - How did you feel about the video?
- Have students answer using the above phrases/chunks.

Activity 4: Speaking

Have students share a personal experience with a partner about gratitude in the past. Remember to use past tense and some of the above phrases.

- Teacher models sharing an experience first.
  - Describe what happened.
    - How did you feel?
    - How did the other person feel?
- Have one or two students share with the class.
- Have students share with a partner three things they found interesting in our lesson today.

Homework

Write down or share with someone three things you are grateful for today.

Follow-up

Tuesday:

Write a thank-you note to the anonymous donor that gave each student $200. Explain what a thank-you note looks like and take some time for the students to write their notes. Please bring those to the office before Wednesday at 3pm. They will be bound in a book, so doing this on normal paper would work great.

Wednesday:

Elder Joseph B. Wirthlin said, "Gratitude is a mark of a noble soul and a refined character. We like to be around those who are grateful. They tend to brighten all around them. They make others feel better about themselves. They tend to be more humble, more joyful, more likable." (retrieved from <https://edtechbooks.org/-wFVM>)

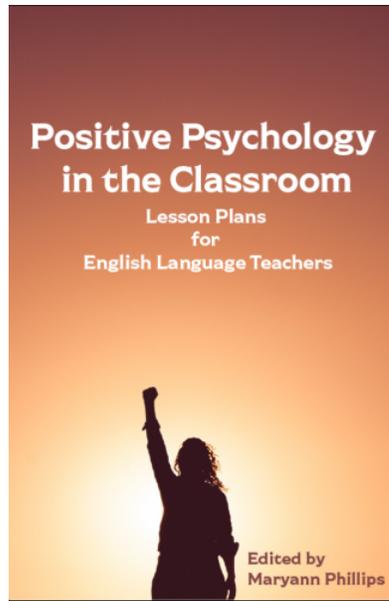

Read this quote as a class and think of a person in your life that is an example of that. Share with a partner. It can be a story or a description of the person or how you feel when you are around that person and why (Teacher models first).

Thursday:

Read the following proverb with the class.

"Feeling gratitude and not expressing it is like wrapping a present and not giving it."

- Do you agree or disagree? Talk with a partner.
- What should we do if we get a gift that we don't like?
